

J. F. TENNANT (1829 – 1915)

Major J. F. Tennant was the director of Madras Observatory for a short period during 1859-60 this was only a temporary post and he resigned in 1860 when R Pogson was appointed as the regular Director. However, his interest in astronomy continued and he led a solar eclipse expedition to Guntur in 1868.