

Bappu's records for institute

BANGALORE, Aug. 10 (PTI)
A rich collection of books and other valuable records of late Dr M K Vainu Bappu, one of the great astronomers the country had produced, was presented to the Indian Institute of Astrophysics, by his wife Mrs Yemuna Bappu at a simple function here today.

Dr J C Bhattacharva, Director of the Institute, in his welcome speech revealed that Dr Bappu, in a letter to his wife, had expressed his wish to donate his 'scientific library' to the Institute. Prof M G K Menon, Member of the Planning Commission, who presided, said Dr Bappu was a 'great astronomer' and the country should be proud of his achievements.
